John Findon writes:

I was brought up in the tiny Village of Pillerton in south Warwickshire. There was a story still current (the man's family still living in the village) about a former Parish Clerk who attended the first visit by Mormon missionaries at a meeting in the Village Hall. The old man sat at the back with his large, black King James Bible, opened it at Genesis 1, and read with his loudest Church voice until the visitors gave up. He then cheerfully announced that 'the word of the Lord hath prevailed in Pillerton'.

I have never felt attracted to Mormon religion, but the Parish Clerk's use of the Bible is quite as alien to me. It made Scripture into a practically magical power at his disposal, of a piece with the way my mother would sometimes be driven to answer: 'but why have I got to...?' 'Because I say so'.

Many of you will have been shocked by the recent coverage of the physical abuse of young men by John Smyth, which led to the resignation of the Archbishop of Canterbury. One clergyman was quoted in the report saying that 'if this [the fact and nature of the abuse] became public it would set the Lord's work back in this country by twenty years'. So he, like so many others, did nothing.

We can all see how wrong that was. But it was not so very different from the way in which some clergy have for decades been willing (in order to 'protect their people' as they would probably say, and not 'set the Lord's work back') to keep truth, painstakingly researched from the study of the Scriptures, locked up in the Vicarage, never making itself heard in the pulpit. On the other hand, I have read attempts to argue that whales can't be mammals because the Book of Jonah calls them fish. The literalist use of Scripture is alive and at work. The broadcast media commonly assume that all Christians are signed up to it, choosing Genesis in opposition to Darwin, for example.

Yet it should surely be evident that to be afraid of truth is a kind of treason against the God of truth. And human beings are used to accessing truth in different ways, hoping to find it in Shakespeare as well as in Darwin.

In the last Link I mentioned plans for 'Agnostics Anonymous'. I have been surprised by how many have lifted their heads far enough above the battlements to speak to me about it. I plan that a group should meet in January, and shall be happy to hear from any others who might be interested.

With love to you all for Christmas and the New Year - John

And join St Andrew's choir for Christmas carols at the King's Arms: Wednesday 18th December, at around 7.0.

Tidal Wave/ Tsunami

In early December 2004 I was working in a large private school in Bangkok Thailand, having retired from 40 years teaching in the UK. I was part of the English Programme and taught girls of 16-18 20th Century World History and Physical Geography.

As many of the girls came from families with luxury hotels and resorts in coastal Thailand and the islands although I had never seen a tidal wave I felt the need to make the students aware. I researched as best I could. I remember clearly telling the students that by carrying out my instructions it could save their lives. I described the sea pulling back and fishes flapping and rubbish visible on the sea bed. I told them to stop watching and to drop everything and run like mad in the opposite direction. I remember making them shout out the instructions loudly - This don't usually do this.

This is what happened to some of my 17-18 year old students on the morning of 26th December 2004. Whilst running they were in the company of elephants who had pulled up their stakes and charging in the same direction.

On returning to school in early January 2005 I was greeted with flowers, cards and presents. For me the most important thing were the letters from fathers thanking me for instructing the girls so well and saving their lives.

The New Paths at the Village Hall

You may have noticed the new paths connecting Henley Road with the recreation ground via the community orchard and the graveyard with a link to the Village Hall car park. The paths are all weather and in addition to helping less able walkers, also enables wheelchair and pram access, which had previously been difficult.

The first section from Henley Road to the orchard gate was financed by the VOCO hotel and the remaining paths financed by a £5,000.00 grant from TOE (Trust for the Oxfordshire Environment) with the balance being met from Parish council funds.
The Parish council would like to thank all the parties involved for their help and cooperation in getting this project to completion.

This new facility should improve access for all in that area of the village and we also hope that the VOCO hotel will be able to complete the final section linking through their new orchard area to the hotel car park.

Peter Addyman

[These new paths are a hugely helpful addition to the village – very many thanks to Peter for his initiative and his commitment to the project.]

Would you like to join Sandford-on-Thames Parish Council?

There is now a vacancy on this friendly council which meets each month in the Village Hall on the first Monday of the month at 6.30pm.

Anyone over 18 is eligible, and we would particularly welcome any interest from the Park Homes or Heyford Hill parts of the village to ensure we have good representation for all villagers.

The parish council is an essential part of the structure of local democracy. Its role is to act on behalf of the village to:

- give views, on behalf of the community, on planning applications and other proposals that affect the parish
- undertake projects and schemes that benefit local residents
- work in partnership with other bodies to achieve benefits for the parish
- alert relevant authorities to problems that arise or work that needs to be undertaken
- and help the other tiers of local government keep in touch with their local communities.

The County and District Councillors usually attend to keep us informed about what is going on in the wider area, answer questions or put them to the right person if they don't know the answer. The Council minutes are posted on the website (www.sandfordonthames.org.uk) as well as on parish noticeboards.

If you are interested – or would like to find out more – just contact the Parish Clerk, Lynne Bustin, by email at Clerk@sandford-on-thames-pc.gov.uk or 07496 414987

Rest in peace

Tammy Holden-White b. 25th September 1987, d. 24th October 2024, aged 37

On 19th November several Sandford friends, including St Andrew's choir and Hannah on the harp, attended the Thanksgiving Service at Sutton Courtney for Tammy's life, and hope to plant a tree in her memory here in Sandford.

Tammy was diagnosed with stage 4 cancer shortly after the birth of her and Simon's son Tom, and the prognosis was dreadful. But Tammy lived on courageously, supported by friends and cared for by Simon and her birth family for six and a half years, so Tom's infancy was embraced by her love and will be enriched by memories. She was a radiant woman that none of us who knew her will forget, always wanting to help and serve her local community (she was briefly a councillor at Sandford before relocating).

At the cremation among the tributes Simon's mother Liz recalled St Paul's 'fruit of the Spirit' – love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control (Galatians 5.22) and we all reflected on how wonderfully these flourished in Tammy. Our sympathies go to Simon and Tom and the wider family. Sorrow for a life cut short at 37 is softened by thankfulness for so much that was good in it.

Martyn John Akrigg b. 26th July 1978, d. 8th September 2024, aged 46

Martyn's family write: Son of John and Marlene, youngest of three children, he grew up in Sandford, where he had many friends. He went to Speedwell School and then on to Oxford Boys, where he made friends who stayed with him to the end. Six of them carried him into the service at Garford.

Martyn met his wife Ruth while she was studying in Oxford, They married in July 2005 and moved to Didcot, and later to Chilton, where they had Ella, followed by Isla (R.I.P.) He worked for local electrical companies with John his dad, and became self-employed until 2021. He then worked for a national firm Baileys at Aldermaston. After working for only about 12 months for them he became unwell and cancer was diagnosed. He had many chemos and kept the faith that he was going to get through it, but sadly on 8th September this year he passed away with Ruth by his side.

He will be missed by all his family and his many, many friends. He was a great husband, father, son, brother, uncle and friend. May you rest in peace, Martyn – you were far too young to leave us all.

What I have learnt - by a retiring vicar

As I edge into the last phases of my life on earth I reflect on what I have learnt from a life with people and books. What the Bible (Old Testament prophets like Jeremiah) and history have taught me is that a society that abandons its gods is doomed, but that a small remnant will survive and rebuild, recovering the old wisdom and applying it with trust, hope and love to new situations - after the fall-out from nuclear catastrophe or global warming, or more senseless wars, disease and starvation.

The loss of God has happened to many in my lifetime - in the 1960s in good ways (more freedom, more tolerance) as well as bad (lack of self-discipline) and worse in the 1980s (more greed, greater inequality) and more dangerously in the past few years - reduced mental and spiritual health, less respect for human life, less care for our neighbours, especially the most vulnerable, uncertainty about truth and values.

And what should I be doing in some small way to stem the tide and build for the future?? Friendships. Reaching out. Teaching the ways that have worked in the past, thinking how they apply in a changed world. My personal responses are slightly different from my children's, and more from the young. I'm not even on TikTok or Facebook and I don't trust what I hear about Twitter. But they - you - must find ways to negotiate a changed world and hold our political and religious leaders to account, especially when they add to the decay. Change is often good, but decay? No thanks, so help me God. Bob

Parking, speed limits and traffic.

There has been a lot of speculation about the changes to the number of vehicles parking along Sandford / Henley Road and other places. The bulk of this additional parking is related to Laing O'Rourke, the main contractor for the Ellison institute in Armstrong way, a three-year project. Parking was restricted in Armstrong way and as a result, Sandford / Henley Roads filled up and the Heyford Hill lane junction became constricted and quite hazardous. HHL itself has also been negatively affected. The number of workers will significantly increase after the basic structure is completed and fitting out starts.

The planning application's quite vaguely written traffic management plan includes the Oxford City requirement that no construction traffic goes through Littlemore, so Sandford gets it all. Laing O'Rourke has been approached by Sandford PC and has been co-operative in trying to address the immediate problems. In order that the PC has its own record, please send your observations about parking, speeding or other Laing O'Rourke matters affecting Sandford to amandathompson@laingorourke.com with cc to clerk@sandfordonthames-pc.gov.uk.

The PC, in conjunction with Highways and Laing O'Rourke is trying to get double yellow lines around the HHL junction, the bridge and the bus stops, and also near the Littlemore Brook bridge where the road narrows to help stop inconsiderate / dangerous parking.

The PC have applied for a 20-mph limit in the village and the consultation on that has just closed. The stretch from the Armstrong Road traffic lights to the Littlemore Brook would remain at 30. As part of this, we want to place a speed measuring / warning device near the Littlemore Brook, the location recommended to the PC by the Highways department. So far, we have been unable to find a suitable location for a device for traffic from the South as there are reservations about all places suggested.

The VOCO hotel is in negotiations with Laing O'Rourke about creating temporary car parking on an area of their land between the hotel and Church Road but that has required a planning application which, if it is made, will take some time. We have been assured by Laing O'Rourke that access would not be from Church Road. Please make your own comments on any application, details of which will be found on the Parish website plus all the usual places.

Heyford Hill lane area addresses.

Finally, after several earlier attempts, the Post Office has relented and changed all the Heyford Hill lane area addresses from Littlemore to Sandford-on-Thames.

Thanks go to a local resident who initiated the process and persisted through the PO procedures to successfully make the change. The HHL area was in Littlemore until the boundary changes of the 1980's when land north of Grenoble road went into Oxford city and land bounded by the Thames, the Littlemore Brook and the A4047 came into Sandford. The vast majority of houses in that area were built after the boundaries altered but the PO still gave them Littlemore addresses rather than change the existing houses to Sandford-on-Thames. Good news that the PO has accepted the obvious reality.

SANDFORD ANNUAL FESTIVAL 2024

Distribution of funds to good causes:

This year the Annual Festival held in July on behalf of St. Andrew's Church raised a super sum of money for distribution to the local charities and good causes. A great result for all who attended and those that helped to contribute. The funds have been allocated as shown below, as well as retaining some funds for starting the 2025 event.

Distribution includes:

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH (MAIN PURPOSE) £2,000; HOME START OXFORD £500; ST. MARY & ST. NICHOLAS CHURCH £200; VILLAGE FOOTPATHS UPKEEP £200; Other recipients include: TALKING SHOP £150; GARDEN GROUP (TS) £100; REFUGEES SUPPORT £100. This is a total of £3,250 – a super achievement by the parish and our community.

As a reminder, if you would like to help the event next year – with fresh ideas and energy - do please get in touch.

We would like to hear from you.

Update from Oxford Preservation Trust – November 2024

As Winter settles in, we're keeping busy with seasonal work in our green spaces including Heyford Meadow and Simons Land. Paths are clear and reeds and grasses have been scythed, raked and piled up. We also continue to maintain the boardwalks. We have recently opened up views into the pond area in Heyford Meadow, do take a look when you next visit.

Heyford Meadow has its own volunteer conservation day on the third Friday of each month between 9.30am and 12:30pm.
It is a great way to be out in nature, get active, and meet new people. Everyone is welcome to join, no experience required.

OPT Events Thank you to all of you who attended Oxford Open Doors! Undeterred by a week of hailstorms, approximately 30,000 visitors took advantage of the returning sunshine to explore a range of events on offer at over 140 venues. The Castleyard was full of creativity, from professional stone carvers demonstrating their craft to a hands-on screen printing workshop. Beyond the city, at the foot of Shotover Hill, tours of Slade Camp by local historians were very popular. Many colleges and university buildings invited the public in with tours and exhibitions. Open Doors will be on 13th & 14th September 2025 – save the date!

For forthcoming events, see oxfordpreservation.org.uk/content/events or email info@oxfordpreservation.org.uk.

We invite you to tell us about what wildlife you see We know that many of you have a keen interest in wildlife and we're interested in what you see when you're out and about in our green spaces to help us with our management plans.

If you'd like to help us build on the records we have, you can record what you see using the iRecord app or making a note and sending it to the Thames Valley Environment Records Centre (TVERC). For more information on how to do this and how your findings would be used go to

<https://www.tverc.org/recorders/share-your-records>

Season's Greetings! OPT wishes you a relaxing break over the Christmas holidays. We hope that you get to enjoy a wander in one of our green spaces local to you, or perhaps a bit further afield. Our website has a range of walks to choose from <https://www.oxfordpreservation.org.uk/green-spaces-walks>
